

Scholarship Terms & Conditions

Healing Trauma, Restoring Connection – Trauma-Informed Couples Therapy Training
8–9 November 2025 | Crow's Nest Community Centre, Sydney

1. Overview

The Australian Resource Therapy Institute (ARTI) is offering scholarships to support therapists to attend Healing Trauma, Restoring Connection – Trauma-Informed Couples Therapy Training, presented by Maureen McEvoy, MA, RCC (Canada), International Imago Faculty.

This opportunity is designed to enhance access to professional training for counsellors, psychologists, psychotherapists, and allied health professionals working with couples.

2. Scholarship allocation

A total of 10 scholarships are available:

- 5 full-fee scholarships covering the complete tuition fee (value $1250 each)
- 5 half-fee scholarships covering 50% of the tuition fee (value $625 each)

Each scholarship place includes:

- Full workshop tuition (as per allocation)
- Training materials provided
- 12 CPD hours eligible with PACFA, ACA, APS, AASW, AAPI, ASCH

Scholarships do not cover travel, accommodation, meals, or other personal expenses.

3. Eligibility

Applications are open to:

- Registered and provisional psychologists
- Counsellors and psychotherapists (PACFA, ACA, AASW, AAPI, APS members)
- Allied health professionals working therapeutically with couples

Applicants must be over 18 years of age.

4. Application process

To apply, applicants must:

1. Select the crew character part they most identify with (e.g. Foggy Fran, Burnout Baxter, Not-Enough Nellie)
2. Write 100 words explaining why this character resonates and how they will apply the training in practice
3. Submit their entry via email to philipa@resourcetherapy.com.au by 15 October 2025

Late applications cannot be accepted.

5. Selection process

- All applications will be reviewed by an ARTI faculty panel.
 - Successful applicants will be notified by 20 October 2025.
 - Selection will be based on the alignment between applicants' reflection and the training's professional development aims.
 - All decisions are final and at the discretion of ARTI.
 - Scholarships are non-transferable and not redeemable for cash.
-

6. Ethical statement

This scholarship supports participation in professional development training. It does not guarantee therapeutic outcomes or specific professional advancement.

ARTI adheres to the APS and AAPI Codes of Ethics and complies with the Psychology Board of Australia advertising guidelines.

7. Contact

For further information, please contact:

Philipa Thornton
Co-Director – Australian Resource Therapy Institute

 www.resourcetherapy.com.au

 philipa@resourcetherapy.com.au
